mentre mi preparavo per la chiacchierata mi sono fissato su un aspetto molto importante che contraddistingue e cerca di giustificare la diffusione di videocamere: il lessico della videosorveglianza

– le videocamere sono descritte come strumenti per "prendersi cura" dello spazio urbano e dei cittadini: la cura del prossimo diventa in realtà una forma di monitoraggio continuo e invasivo nei confronti della persona

- l'obiettivo delle videocamere è "migliorare la percezione di sicurezza": non conta nulla se i reati sono in calo, l'importante è che ci siano degli oggetti visibili che ci ricordano che c'è il rischio che qualcuno commetta un crimine e che non sia rintracciabile senza l'ausilio di quegli occhi digitali
- le videocamere sono ad "elevata tecnologia": la qualità tecnologica diventa l'unico aspetto da tenere in considerazione, oscurando e mettendo da parte ogni riflessione sui rischi e le criticità della tecnologia
